

ERIN VANESSA is a former video game producer turned author/illustrator. When not working, she's usually baking a cake, playing The Legend of Zelda, or watching Star Trek: Deep Space Nine for the millionth time. She lives in Victoria, Canada, with her family.

I'M INTERESTED IN WORKING ON BOOKS involving quirky, flawed characters and that have a hint of magic or fantasy. Humor, witty banter, and a lot of heart are also big pluses.
